Bnai Brith Entertains District President Loevinger and Past President Frankel; Talmud Torah to Use Public School Class-rooms; Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood Annual Meeting and Election; "Y" Merges with Montefiore Club; Jewish Orphanage Begins Series of Outings. Personal and Social.

"In order to assure insertion in next issue, all items for publication must be in the hands of our correspondent (Miss Zoe Isaacs, 200 Balmoral Street, or phone Sherbrooke 4724) not later than Thursday morning of each week."

Independent Order Bnai Brith, No. 650

The Lodge was honored on Sunday, the 3rd instant, by a visit from Mr. Gustavus Loevinger, president, and Mr. B. Frankel, past president of District Grand Lodge No. 6, who were met upon their arrival by the executive, and who went into session at the Fort Garry Hotel at 10 o'clock. This was followed by luncheon, and in the afternoon a business meeting of the lodge was held in the Commercial Travellers' Building at 2.30 o'clock, at which Mr. James Shaen, the local president, occupied the chair. The president of the District Grand Lodge addressed the meeting on the general work of the order, and Mr. Frankel spoke with feeling of the devotion to his duty of the late lamented secretary of the District Grand Lodge, Mr. A. B. Seelenfreund, and the loss sustained by the Order at his sudden and untimely death. At 6.30 o'clock the guests were entertained at dinner at the Fort Garry Hotel, at which a number of the members and their wives were present. In the evening an open meeting was held, presided over, by special request of the executive, by Mr. Max Steinkopf, the first past president of the Winnipeg Lodge. Speeches were delivered by the visitors and others, piano selections were rendered by Miss Stockhammer and vocal solos by Miss Hugg. The next day a business luncheon was held at the St. Charles Hotel, attended by the guests and executive, and at 4.45 p.m. Messrs. Loevinger and Frankel left for the south.

Talmud Torah

The Board of Directors of the Talmud Torah have decided on a policy that will in the future make the Talmud Torah of even greater service to the Winnipeg Jews.

They have arranged with the City School Board for the use of class-rooms in the public schools for a very nominal fee, in which to teach Hebrew. This step will be of particular benefit to districts that are far from either of the present two Talmud Torahs. The Jewish residents of these districts have been unable to send their children to the Talmud Torah owing to the distance and have had to hire private tutors, or worse still, allow their children no Hebrew education, which, needless to say, is very detrimental to their Jewish well-being.

By organizing Talmud Torah districts, which is the intention of the directors, they will consolidate the Hebrew education and educators under proper auspices. This move will no doubt meet with the general approval of the Jews of Winnipeg.

A Talmud Torah Boy Scout Troop was started last week, with the usual Boy Scout activities as their object. One of the most commendable regulations of this Troop is that Hebrew be their official language. This will indeed help to take the Hebrew language out of the class-room and into the every-day life of these boys. Dr. Rady and Dr. Ben Ezra, two of the Talmud Torah directors, are in charge of the organization of the Troop.

A picnic will be held at Kenora Park on Sunday, June 17th, at which a very good time for all attending is expected. There will be races and sports of different kinds, fireworks, etc. The Ladies' Auxiliary will be in charge of the refreshment booths on the grounds.

The mode of transportation to the picnic will be by automobile, loaned by those who possess them to the Talmud Torah. Any Jewish citizen who has not been asked for the loan of his car, will receive the thanks of the Talmud Torah if he offers it either by phone or mail to the Secretary of the Talmud Torah.

Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood

The annual meeting of the Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood took place Wednesday afternoon, June 6th, at the Shaarey Zedek Synagog. The various reports were read and the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. In a summing up of the President's report she expressed her gratitude to the Executive and members for the co-operation and untiring efforts she received from them in the past term, and also to Rabbi Samuel, who was always ready to lend a helping hand to assist in matters religious and communal, and who was never failing in his patience and advice. The fact was also emphasized that in this city there is not a Council of Jewish Women and the Sisterhood are really doing the Council work plus the work in connection with the Synagog.

A summary of the Secretary's report regarding the activities to raise money, to increase the membership, to attend to the Juvenile Court work and give aid wherever necessary, proves that they were successful in all their attempts, which, of course, could not have been accomplished if the members had not worked in harmony and with eagerness along with their fellow-workers. Following the reading of the reports, the election of officers took place, which resulted in the following being elected: Mrs. M. Finkelstein, honorary president; Mrs. Max Heppner, president; Mrs. C. Schiller, first vice-president; Mrs. A. Levinson, second vice-president; Mrs. B. Levi, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Cohen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. N. Steinberg, treasurer; house committee, Mrs. M. Abramovitch; hospital committee, Mrs. H. J. Samuel; friendly visiting committee, Mrs. J. Adler; juvenile court committee, Mrs. C. Schiller; Girl Guide committee, Mrs. J. Wilder; membership committee, Mrs. L. Churchill; Sunday school committee, Mrs. A. Cohen. The members elected for the Advisory Board are the following: Mrs. N. L. Green, Mrs. P. Stephanie, Mrs. M. Weidman, Mrs. D. Singer, Mrs. B. Levinson, Mrs. N. J. Weidman, Mrs. S. Rodin, Mrs. L. Churchill, Mrs. C. Portigal, Mrs. J. P. Weidman, Mrs. H. J. Samuel and Mrs. M. Finkelstein.

Y. M. and Montefiore to Merge

After some weeks of continuous meetings of committees representing the Y.M.H.A. and Montefiore Club, the recommendation that the two clubs merge and form one community organization was finally approved of at special general meetings of the two organizations.

Needed—an Understanding of Jewish Life in America

By Dr. Cyrus Adler

Dr. Adler presents herewith by the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, by arrangement with the "Jewish Forum," an article taking to task the organizations showing independence in acts involving or committing Jews of the United States. He points out that there is particular lack of understanding in the conduct of religious and educational affairs.

In the next installment, Dr. Adler urges the creation of a league of national societies representing the organized life of the Jews of America, forming a conference to consider the problems which are common to them all and which affect them all.—Editor.

(Copyright, 1923, Jewish Correspondence Bureau.)

The Jews of the United States are organized for religious, benevolent, educational and charitable purposes. Their organizations are nearly all of them federated into national organizations. These national organizations are the only ones that represent the Jews of the United States, and in order to represent them all, these national organizations should be brought into some sort of council or conference for such limited purposes as do not affect their specific objects, but in behalf of which it may be important that they should labor in common. There is no other way in which an understanding can be reached among the Jews in the United States for any general purpose. They can never be represented through a new independent organization based upon a plebiscite, because a large section, probably a majority of the Jewish people of the United States, will refuse to take part in such a directorate, as indeed they did even under the pressure of war conditions. The endeavor to create a super-organization based upon manhood and womanhood suffrage down to the age of eighteen, and a per capita expenses, savors too much of the general political election to make it possible for a Jew who has really caught the spirit of American institutions to take part in it. It is just as well that this should be understood [illegible] much damage is to be avoided, and the damage [illegible] will not [illegible] upon the people who [illegible] but will fall upon the people in Eastern Europe and Palestine and upon Jews the world over.

[illegible] that it is the little communities of America [illegible] that [illegible] matters which affect the whole community are [illegible] through the familiar bodies [illegible] were not [illegible] sections of the Jewish people that had to do with them.

[illegible] a few examples of [illegible] organizations [illegible] have decided [illegible] the interests of the Jews and that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Simon Wolf, "Nestor of American Jewry," Dead at Eighty-six

Atlantic City (J.T.A.)—Simon Wolf, aged 86, formerly United States Minister to Egypt and for many years a lawyer active in Jewish affairs, died suddenly at the Royal Palace Hotel.

He came here three weeks ago from Washington accompanied by his wife, intending to spend the summer. He suffered from a severe attack of indigestion a week ago, but it was believed was rallying when he was stricken.

Mr. Wolf, who sometimes was referred to as "the Ambassador of the Jews at Washington," was said to be the personal friend of every President, from Lincoln to Harding, and was one of the best known men in Washington. He took part in the consideration of every problem that affected the Jews anywhere in the world.

He was born in Hinzweiler, Bavaria, and took his law degree at the University of Strassburg. In 1861 he took another degree at the Ohio Law College, of Cleveland. Then he moved to Washington to practice law and become the friend of Abraham Lincoln.

President Garfield appointed Mr. Wolf Minister to Egypt in 1881 the last official act of Garfield before he was killed. His first public office, however, was given him by President Grant, who made him Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbus.

On account of bad eyesight, Mr. Wolf left the post in Egypt and resumed the practice of law in Washington, which he continued until two years ago. Jewish philanthropies, and the presentation of the rights of Jews before the Government departments, took up much of his time. It is said that he had prevented the deportation at one time and another of 125,000 immigrants.

Mr. Wolf wrote many books, among them a biography of M. M. Noah, a biography of Commodore D. P. Levy, and "The Presidents I Have Known from 1860 to 1918."

ELLIS ISLAND OFFICERS WANT RELIEF FROM "WEIRD" IMMIGRATION LAWS

New York, (J.T.A.)—Unless the short session of Congress, convening in December, finds time and inclination to amend the immigration law, Ellis Island will again next year be the scene of daily tragedy, in the opinion of the immigration authorities here, according to an article in to-day's issue of "The Sun and Globe." Needless sufferings, the officials assert, is inflicted on immigrants through weird workings of the law which the immigrant is unable to foresee and which the authorities at Ellis Island are often powerless to ameliorate, with the best will in the world to do so.

With regard to the policy of restricting or selecting or letting in all immigrants, the officials as such hold no opinion. They want quick relief, however, from those features of the law which have nothing to do with the policy, but which, nevertheless, inflict upon the people of the island the unpleasant duty of separating the members of families, making decisions obviously in conflict with common sense and ordering the deportation of many an applicant who they know would make a useful citizen.

Robert E. Todd, commissioner in charge at Ellis Island, believes that a better way of determining nationality could be applied.

"The case of place of birth determining nationality is illustrative of the lack of co-ordination abroad that ought to be remedied. Even where a consul may know that the quota of his country is not full, he has scant means of knowing whether the quota of some other country is full, and the natural inclination is to grant a vise to all the members of a family if the heads of the family are eligible. Then they come here and we have no option, often, but to reject some members and admit others.

"We are not the ones who actually break up the families, however. The immigrants themselves do that. In the case of children being refused admission on medical as well as other grounds, it is not convenient for the parents to choose to come into the country without the rejected child.

Commissioner Todd believes that the nationality of the head of the family should determine the eligibility for admission of all its members accompanying him, so far as the quota law is concerned. He admits that it would be subject to such issues as marriage for the sole purpose of naming the husband. But these abuses could better be controlled than the hardships now inflicted.

Ussishkin Assails Chaim Weizmann's Jewish Agency Stand

Dr. Halpern Tells Zionist Leaders American Jewry Contemplates $5,000,000 Credit Fund.

Berlin (J.T.A.)—Menachem Ussishkin, chairman of the Palestine Executive of the Zionist Organization, who arrived here from Jerusalem to take part in the deliberations of the Actions Committee, outlined before the Jewish Telegraphic Agency his program, as opposed to that of President Chaim Weizmann's, which he termed as "immaterial."

The conflict, which is expected to arise at the approaching Zionist Congress over the constituting of the Jewish Agency, is "immaterial," the veteran Zionist leader said: "Baron Rothschild, the father of the new Jewish settlement in Palestine, did not wait to begin his work until he had had the title of member of the Jewish Agency conferred upon him. Others to receive this title may and may not be moved thereby in Palestine."

In contrast with the plan fostered by Dr. Weizmann, that the seat of the new Zionist Executive to be elected by the approaching Zionist Congress, shall be in London, and its plenipotentiary reside in Jerusalem, Mr. Ussishkin urges that the seat be in Jerusalem, a political representative residing in London, acting under the instruction of the Jerusalem body. Mr. Ussishkin insisted, however, the question of leadership was not one of personnel. "I welcome everyone who thoroughly and sincerely believes in the maximum of our ideal and not in its present whittled-down form, for it is only men of faith who can communicate their beliefs to others."

Characterizing the chasm between Sir Herbert Samuel's intentions and acts as "unbridgeable," Mr. Ussishkin said "the High Commissioner is a tragic figure. His resignation, however, would be a misfortune because to-day Sir Herbert is the symbol of the Balfour Declaration."

Dr. George Halpern, Treasurer of the Zionist Organization and Chairman of the Jewish Colonial Trust, following the report on the Zionist situation to the opening session of the Actions Committee by Nahum Sokolow, Chairman of the Executive, said, in reporting on his recent visit to America, the willingness of great sections of American Jews for participation in the Palestine task, was "boundless." Leading Jews of America are prepared to place at the disposal of Palestine enterprises credit facilities amounting to $5,000,000, Dr. Halpern reported.

KOWNO POLICE BREAK UP JEWISH CHILDREN'S OUTING

Kowno (J.T.A.)—Seventy Jewish children were detained, 15 are still under arrest, and a number of teachers taken into custody, all because the outing which the children had outside of the city was arranged without due notification to the police. The picnic was surrounded by a body of district police who demanded the children show their passports a number of them being beaten in the course of the search.

Needed—an Understanding of Jewish Life in America

great extent accidental, differences of origin are not obliterated.

A man who was a Russian forty years ago, may be a Pole to-day, a man who was a Greek becomes an Ottoman, and a Syrian and Arab may at this moment be living in a French mandatory.

If there be a differentiation in Jewish practice or in the ritual, that is another matter, but surely the main strains of the Ashkenazim and Sephardim are sufficient to obliterate that. See what it brings at times. I noticed, for example, that subsequent to April, 1917, a great many people who thought it was rather a badge of distinction to be known as German Jews were not so terribly proud of the qualifying adjective and were willing to get rid of it even at the expense of changing their family names.

The whole attempt to differentiate Jews in America by their country of origin seems to be futile and useless. It has no warrant in Judaism.

Moreover,

There is another consideration of which I think is needed and that is an understanding of Jewish souls and manners. There are Jews among us, considerable in number and most estimable, who have abandoned many of the traditions and practices of Judaism. There are Jews among us in considerable numbers who adhere to every law and to every custom most scrupulously. There are all grades in between. I think that the least that we can expect of these various groups is that they should respect each other and that each should give due credit for the honesty of the adherence and practice. Certainly those who have abandoned the Jewish law should make it a point not to antagonize in any way those who cling to it and observe so many things which the traditionally observant Jew may not do without violation to his conscience. And the truly observant Jew could also refrain from doing without violation to his conscience. In other words we should each of us be at least as tolerant and as respectful towards each other's sentiments and practices as we should like our friends to be towards our opinions and our practices.

Editorial

Is Canada a Christian Country?

"THERE were objections, no doubt, in some quarters, owing to the mixed population, to Bible teaching in the schools. There were objections, no doubt, on the part of the Jews. If we call ours a Christian land, let them know when they come to this land that they are coming to a Christian land and that they have to abide by the regulations of a Christian people."

Thus spoke one of the reverend gentlemen at the Provincial Anglican Synod Conference which closed in Toronto last week.

The sentiments above quoted seemed to express the opinion of the great majority of those attending the conference, comprising the most numerous and influential Christian denominations in Ontario. The subject which roused the reverend speaker to make so categorical a statement was that of Bible and religious instruction in the public schools. Periodically this question comes up at every one of the Protestant denominational conferences and periodically a resolution is unanimously carried in favor of more Bible and religion in our schools. At this particular meeting a very strong resolution carried, urging "that in co-operation with other communions of the Province there be organized a monster deputation of at least 10,000 electors to wait upon the Government of the Province at the next session of the Legislature and to impress upon them the earnest determination of the Christian people of the Province to give Bible and religious instruction the place in the curriculum of the public schools to which it is entitled."

In justice to the Baptist denomination it should be mentioned that they are opposed to Bible and religious instruction in the public schools and have consistently declined to co-operate with the other Protestant denominations in this respect.

There are at least two statements in the quotation cited above to which we take serious objection. They are (1) that Canada is a Christian land, and (2) that Bible and religious instruction has a place in the public school of the Province.

Concerning the second we have written several times and our attitude is clear. We are opposed to more Bible instruction in the public schools because it is merely the thin edge of the sword for the complete Protestantization of our public schools. A certain amount of Bible is now prescribed by statute for daily reading in the schools. To be sure teachers are finding it wholly ineffective. Children of mixed religious groups in each class are forewarned by their parents to ignore the theological interpretation put upon the Biblical selection by the teacher. This inevitably leads the children to regard the period devoted to the reading of the Bible as a spare period. If they are impressed at all it is with the fact that the Bible is not an important book and one over which considerable controversy rages. The fact, too, that some children rise and leave the room during this period out of conscience, merely emphasizes among the children a sense of religious difference, thus defeating the aims of unity and love, which true religions should foster. We are convinced that in a country made of divers religious elements, religion has no place in the already overburdened curriculum of the public schools. We can not be accused of believing that religion is less important than any of the other subjects now taught in the schools. On the contrary we maintain that there is no subject so important from the point of view of character building. And just for this reason we believe religion has no place in the public schools where its teaching must give rise to dissention. The place for religious instruction is the home or the religious school. If the one-day-a-week Sunday school is insufficient, then the churches should try to solve the question not by foisting the subject upon the public schools—a cowardly and unjust way of tackling the question—but by establishing week-day religious instruction in some such form as the Jewish Talmud Torahs and other private religious schools.

Though we are opposed to religious education in the public schools we are firmly convinced of the place of indirect moral training in these schools. But for the purpose of moral education it is not necessary to storm Parliament with a delegation of 10,000 votes. Good citizens of all denominations are unanimously agreed that a plan of moral teaching can be pedagogically formulated which will not give offense to any religious group and which will be both theological and non-creedal in character. It is the confusion that moral education must necessarily be based on church dogmas that causes all the controversy. Why, the Protestants are themselves split into fractions on this very matter of dogma, so that what the Anglicans hold to be sound religious teaching the Baptists consider worse than heresy and vice versa. Our friends the Anglicans and other Christians who refer to Canada as a Christian country speak wholly undisturbed by the facts and with little regard for the principles on which a country like Canada is founded. Canada is not a Christian country constitutionally or in any other way. And the fact that this land of ours is populated largely by people whose religion is Christianity does not make this a Christian country.

Canada is a democratic country founded on the principles of law and order and British fair play. The laws of this country are entirely non-sectarian in character and purpose. The church and state are wholly separate and distinct. The statutes of Canada guarantee to every inhabitant, not merely every citizen, freedom to worship God in his own way, and protect the religious minorities in their rights from the tyranny of the majority, if the majority should ever desire to force its religious views on the minority. In the field of conscience majority vote does not rule. If it should, we would be back in the middle ages where the church burnt people at the stake because they would not believe as those in authority would have them believe. To revoke the principles of religious liberty would be equivalent to turning the hands of the clock of progress back several hundred years. Democracy would be a mockery and British justice would be a lie.

Yet this is just what is implied when Jews and other non-Christian groups legally resident in Canada and citizens of the country are told that "when they come to this land they are coming to a Christian land and that they have to abide by the regulations of a Christian people."

By what right do these people call Canada a Christian country? To be sure there are some laws which are made by the majority and to which the minority conform in order to gratify the wishes and religious sentiments of the majority. Thus Sunday is the official day of rest in Canada. But no one is forced by law to go to church on Sunday. Church-going is a purely voluntary function. Christmas is declared a legal holiday in Canada. But no one is compelled by statute to observe Christmas in a religious way. It is this distinction that our Protestant friends fail to appreciate and the misconception that leads them to regard Canada as a Christian land.

In one sense we would like to see Canada a Christian land. It is that our gentile neighbors and fellow-citizens should take more cognizance of those Christian virtues concerning which there is so much prating and so little practice. We mean those virtues of brotherly love, mutual respect and confidence.

Most of the war-time speakers whose voices shook with feeling as they promised us a golden era of Christian love as soon as we had won the war, when more war would be unknown and prejudices gone, have turned to other subjects requiring less in the way of promises and fulfillment of promises or have had the grace to become inaudible altogether. There are a few, however, such as Sir William Hearst, who talked to the Lay Association of the Toronto Methodist Conference recently, who still prefer the old bunk and don't even try to dress it up. Into the ears of men assembled to wonder why the church has lost its hold, the speaker poured the "bolshevist peril" and "Christianity, the hope of a tried world"—two subjects which we thought had been sunk in a deep well by tacit consent of speakers and bored audiences.

The last revival of "live Christianity" was to come if we fought to make the world safe for democracy, but the new revival is needed to keep from having a bloodier war, which to Sir William seems on its way. The last one, which should be here now, was to bring Catholic, Jew and Protestant, perhaps even infidels, together in a welded embrace, and peace on all sides after the war that was to assure it forever, but such meetings as the Methodists' conference shows that something must have happened to the revival in transit since most people won't even go to church to hear about Christianity, much less bother about living it.

We are reminded of a cartoon Ding had recently in the New York Tribune. It showed "Dr. Bullerie Hillock" booming out to seven anæmic hearers and a sleeping janitor that "our civilization is trembling on the verge of utter destruction." In another part a few dowdy highbrows were trooping in to hear Carl von Pretzelwerfer in recital. The third part of the cartoon showed big folks and little ones pushing their way into a movie house to see Dolly Dimple in "Adam's First Apple" and the entire drawing was entitled, "Who Cares?"

As Americans, we feel within ourselves no sort of uncongeniality towards French or Russian literature, German or Italian music, Flemish or Spanish painting. We have the highest regard, too, for the Jewish Scriptures; and in fact we feel that we, personally, have always gained and never lost by helping ourselves to the best, wherever we could lay hands on it. The Jew's case for exclusiveness is, of course, much stronger than the hundred-per-cent. American's, and yet it is nonsensical to pretend that the Jew can duplicate within the limits even of his own rich culture all the good things that can be had outside. As the editor of East and West admits, exclusiveness can be maintained in our day only by a conscious effort. The natural tendency of the time is towards a generous borrowing; and the hope of the future seems to us to lie, not in the stubborn defence of Judaism or Americanism against the world, but in the acceptance of a humanism that is broader than either, and richer than both together.—The Freeman.

This Sunday the people of South Carolina in response to a call from Governor McLeod will unite in asking divine aid against the boll weevil. They will fast and pray for deliverance from its ravages "either by direct supernatural intervention or through the workings of natural causes." At the same time many negroes are leaving South Carolina and other Southern states for the North, apparently having lost faith in direct supernatural intervention to deliver them from their white oppressors and having decided to help themselves with what they already have, namely, their feet. The boll weevil, which can cause such havoc to a cotton crop, is really one of the best friends South Carolina has, since it was directly responsible for making that state more than a one-crop section for the most part. Perhaps in the same way the whites are the best friends the blacks have and through their injustices will bring about such rebellion on the part of the negroes that their emancipation may become practical as well as theoretical.

Dr. I. R. Smith operated on six children of the Jewish Children's Home. He was assisted by Dr. David Perlman and Miss Levy, the superintendent. As there are no arrangements for a sick room or hospital, one of the dormitories had to be temporarily utilized for the occasion. Three of these children have now left the Home in a fit physical condition. The Home concerns itself with the welfare of the child when it leaves the institution.

The Children's Home will be in charge of the pastry booth at the Y.M.H.A. and Talmud Torah bazaar, which takes place during the week of Succoth.

Hebrew Maternity Aid Elects New Officers

Summer Rest Home to Open June 17

New officers of the Hebrew Maternity Aid, elected Wednesday afternoon at Zionist Institute, are: Mrs. S. Helpert, president, re-elected; Mrs. L. M. Schwartz, Mrs. L. Yolles, Mrs. S. Lewis, Mrs. Narrol, Mrs. M. S. Till, vice-presidents; Mrs. H. Clavir, treasurer; Mrs. Weinstein, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Selick, recording secretary.

The feature of the meeting was the secretary's report, read by Mrs. J. Selick, who "looked back on a year of humanitarian service in the name of motherhood and the youngest generation." The speaker gave cold statistics to show what has been accomplished in the past fifteen years by the Hebrew Maternity Aid and its Mothers' and Babes' Summer Rest Home, which has been working for one year at the job of giving little ones and their mothers a summer's breathing space.

Mrs. Selick's report showed that $1,125 was received from the Federation for Maternity Aid and that 77 cases were cared for. There were three cases for adoption, the children being found good homes. Pre-natal assistance was given in many cases upon investigation and followed by after-care. Complete outfits were given mothers and babes, the sewing committee under the guidance of Mrs. Lewis, convenor, having completed 975 articles besides complete outfits for the summer months. Over 2,000 quarts of milk were purchased besides other food, such expenses coming from the Federation grant. Such expenses as postage were covered by small membership fees and the Summer Rest Home was financed entirely outside Federation funds by the hard work and enterprise of Maternity Aid members. It is expected that the Home will be open June 15 for the first group of mothers and children. Mrs. I. H. Siegel is convenor of cases to be sent to the cottage. Mrs. Narrol and Mrs. Yolles, Mrs. Lovitz and Mrs. Siegel are in charge of the supply and transportation committee.

Mrs. H. Clavir, the treasurer, read her report on the exchequer, which showed a year of excellent results for the small income.

Mrs. S. Helpert, the president, who has ably guided the organization during the last four years, paid an eloquent tribute to those who sacrificed so much of their time and energy for the cause.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Groves, member Board of Education.

Last year forty-two cases and eighty-six children rested at the Summer Home and with a larger budget more work of this laudable nature could be done. Mrs. Selick also said that in the 15 years of its existence, 584 mothers had come under Maternity Aid care. This organization has been assisted by volunteer doctors and its friendly visiting committee, of whom the following are members: Mesdames Narrol, Simon, Godfrey, Levy, Goldberg, Brownstein, Yolles, Till.

During Passover, baskets were provided for 130 needy families by individual members of the Maternity Aid and a cot at Weston sanitorium is still maintained by voluntary contributions.

Mrs. M. S. Till's report showed that 20 mothers and their children were disappointed last year because it was impossible to give them resting quarters. Volunteer workers left their homes for a week or two at a time to help at the cottage and all transportation expense was saved, due to the willingness of members to assist with their cars. Mrs. Till bespoke the organization's indebtedness to the Star Fresh Air Fund for its donation of over $700 for food supplies. She listed social affairs which netted funds and praised the committees in charge for their success, which makes it possible now to care for eleven mothers and their children at a time at the Summer Home.

as merchandise is a misnomer. Can a printed label be compared with an axe, for instance? The label carries a parcel across the continent or around the world, telling each handler from whence to where. The axe is useful too, but only to the immediate user. Federation Needs $75,000

Reports Presented at Annual Meeting Were of Satisfactory Character

With the president, Rabbi B. R. Brickner, occupying the chair, the annual meeting of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of Toronto was held Thursday night last in the Zionist Institute, 206 Beverley Street. An increase was shown in the number of large subscribers, it was pointed out in the joint report of the president and executive director, S. B. Kaufman, yet the total subscribed had dropped a little, and it was felt that a total subscription of $75,000 a year was required to adequately carry on. It was intimated that the time might come when the Federation would join the Federation for Community Service.

A statement of the work of the various affiliated organizations followed. Detailed reports of these were then presented by the various representatives.

Addresses were given by Rev. Peter Bryce and Rabbi Siegel.

The financial statement showed an income of $55,676.24, which included contributions from members of $42,073, and the civic grant of $2,500.

The following were elected trustees for three years: L. Adelberg, S. Bennett, Dr. A. Brodey, Harry Clavir, D. Dunkelman, C. Garfunkel, Samuel Harris, Mrs. N. Helpert, Wm. Leibel, Samuel Nankin, J. Perkins, E. Pullan, Harry Samuel, J. Tarshis, S. Weber.

Benjamin and Miss Jean Narofsky acted as the initiating officers, and the following members were initiated and accepted: the Misses Lillian and Selma Speigal, Frances Thomas and Millie Miller. Miss Jean Narofsky presented Miss Leah Sagman with a wedding gift of a dozen cut glass sherbet glasses, prior to her leaving for New York. Those who assisted in serving were Mrs. Harry Benjamin and Mrs. J. Rabow.

BALFOUR

In a thrilling game of baseball played at Bellwoods Park, the Balfours managed to defeat the Hasmoneans by the score of 4-3. The feature of the game was the splendid hitting and fielding of Lister, Freeman and Goldman, and the deceptive pitching of Benino Hoffman. On Friday, July 6, the Balfours will hold their annual trip across the lake, and on July 28 the first annual picnic will be inaugurated.

The club will give a theatre party soon in honor of its baseball team.

The snooker tournament to decide who is the master of the cue is progressing. Solway, who has not yet lost a game, is off to a good start, but he is being closely pressed by Moscoe and Pollock.

Sunday meetings will be discontinued: special meetings from time to time. Notices will be sent out to the members shortly regarding the annual boat trip.

Hadassah

Sunday evening, June 10, the closing meeting of the Junior Hadassah was held at the Zionist Institute.

Mrs. I. H. Siegel gave an interesting talk on the Bible Vacation School.

Mrs. J. Selick spoke on the "Quarter" drive to be held for special Canadian Hadassah work in Palestine.

A linen shower will be given in aid of the Palestine hospitals on Sunday, June 17, at the Zionist Institute, from four to six. All Hadassah Chapters and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

Central

The Central Chapter of Hadassah held its regular meeting, Wednesday, at the Zionist Institute. It was recommended and passed, that all Hadassah Chapters participate in the Zionist Free School.

The Chapter presented the Zionist Institute with $300.00. Mrs. Dunkelman thanked the Chapter on behalf of the Building Committee.

A membership committee of fifteen has been formed.

HERZL GIRLS

At the meeting of Herzl Girls, Monday evening, Miss Betty Goldstick ably installed the officers recently elected. Speeches were given by the retiring officers.

Arrangements were made for the final meeting at the Island.

Revival of Jewish Court Is Planned

A movement is being planned to revive the Jewish Court of Arbitration, which was originated in 1914 by Mr. Hyman Siegel, and which attracted much attention from the daily press for the good work it did in deciding cases among Jews of Toronto in order to keep them from the courts.

MR. HYMAN SIEGEL
founder of Jewish Court of Arbitration.

Mr. Siegel, who was the first chairman of the Jewish Court, appointed at the time all Toronto rabbis, eighteen prominent laymen and Magistrate J. Cohen, each of whom acted as judge. Approval was first obtained from city judges for the organization of the Jewish Court, and Mr. Siegel himself adjusted over 300 disputes and the Court judges over 200, in one year.

No charges were made for petty cases, but nominal fees were taken for cases of large amounts in order to defray expenses for rent, et cetera. Any surplus funds were distributed to Jewish charities. The court was busy enough to have two sessions in one evening. The advisory council consisted of Messrs. H. Siegel, D. I. Siegel, D. Lavine and C. Pasternack.

WARSAW ARSENAL POINTS TO LEAGUE OF TERRORISTS

Warsaw (J.T.A.).—The discovery of a small-size arsenal containing five bombs, a pound of dynamite, and a number of rifles, revolvers and cartridges, has led to the arrest of a number of alleged terrorists. The police have under observation several suspected places and many fresh arrests are expected in a few days.

Although the names of those taken into custody are being withheld, the police say they are satisfied the local terrorists are in league with others in Berlin and Kowno.

The recent bomb outrages in Krakow and Warsaw are understood to have been traced to the group under arrest. Information leading to the arrest of the terrorists is said to have come to the police through the fiancée of a member of the gang who was tempted by a 20,000,000 marks reward.

The commodious vestry room of the University Avenue Synagog was filled to capacity on Sunday evening when the Young Peoples' League of the congregation brought the season's activities to a close with a reception and mock trial. A feature of the evening was the presentation to Rabbi Siegel of a gift by the members of the league in appreciation of his assistance in making the league a great success. Responding, Rabbi Siegel addressed the members and their friends and congratulated them on the splendid progress they have made since the organization of the League two years ago.

"The Trial of John Jones for the Murder of his Wife" proved to be a very interesting skit from the pen of Miss Rita Levine. In the cast were Mr. Henry M. Finkle as Judge, Mr. J. D. Pearlstein as Crown Prosecutor, Mr. J. Markus, Counsel for the Defense, Miss Rita Levine, Miss Minnie Roebuck, Mr. John Sher and Mr. Samuel Roebuck.

This camp hopes to make an ideal summer vacation possible for the poorer boys of the city. To ensure the success of this work the hearty co-operation of the community is asked for. The campaign for funds will be launched early this week. The camp will be situated at Shawbridge on the C.P.R. line, where twenty acres of fine ground obtained from the Hebrew Orphans' Home will be converted into an up-to-date camp and opened for occupation on July the first.

Editorial

The quotation which stands at the head of this editorial is more on the nature of the challenge by so-called Christians to non-Christians: "If you don't like it, get out. You are welcome only if you can conform. If you can't, you are not wanted."

These sentiments are unbecoming to one who calls himself a Christian and a modern man. Not on such a foundation can Canada be built. Such a spirit surely does not lead non-Christians to believe that Christians are sincere when they preach brotherly love.

We are in favor of having Canada become known as a Christian country, not by labelling it such, but by the high-minded service for which it stands.

UNITED STATES LINES

General Passenger Office Opened in Toronto

On account of the unusual popularity of the ships of the United States Lines, and the many requests for bookings from all parts of Canada, the United States Lines have decided to open a general passenger office at 79 Queen Street West, Toronto, to take care of Canadian business. Canadian agents for the line are being appointed by Messrs. Rottenbergs Limited, general agents for Canada, in all the cities and towns throughout the Dominion.

The S. S. Leviathan, the largest ship in the world, makes her first sailing from New York to Southampton and Cherbourg on July 4th, 1923. In addition to the Leviathan, the fleet consists of the George Washington, 25,570 tons; America, 24,000 tons; President Harding, 15,000 tons; President Roosevelt, 15,000 tons; President Garfield, 10,533 tons; President Monroe, 10,533 tons; President Van Buren, 10,533 tons; President Polk, 10,513 tons; President Adams, 13,533 tons; President Fillmore, 10,000 tons, and President Arthur, 10,500 tons.

An innovation in the United States Lines cabin ships is the offering of cabin accommodation in rooms with private baths and toilets at $135 and $140 respectively. This is the first time that such accommodation has been offered at such low rates, and to accommodate the extraordinary demand for cabin accommodation, the America (24,000 tons) has been changed into a one-class steamer, and will be the largest steamer of that class on the Atlantic. In addition, the Agamemnon, 24,000 tons; the Mount Vernon, 23,000 tons, and the President Buchanan, 18,000 tons, are being reconditioned and will shortly join the fleet.

Reb Sholom David

By Rachael Leah Yoffe

(The general press is just now full of articles and stories dealing with Jewish life. Some of these are good; some of these are indifferent; many of them are very bad. The following little story was published in the "Survey." It is reprinted in these columns because it is the kind of Jewish story which should appear oftener in the public print. Leah Rachel Yoffe is well known to our readers, having frequently contributed to the Yiddish and Anglo-Jewish press. — THE EDITOR.)

After a hard day's work in his shop Reb Sholom Dovid always goes to the synagog to read a page from the Talmud. Every evening just before sunset the older men of the shul come together around the long table in the dim outer room of the synagog and study the Talmud, first one of them taking the interpretation, then another. They chant the old Hebrew words, and then sing-song the explanation of the text in a regular rhythm, traditional and quaint. Sometimes a question is asked, and the group becomes electrified. The droning chant is forgotten; there is quick, hot discussion for a while. Then in a few minutes the regular droning exegesis begins again.

Suddenly all becomes quiet, for it is time for evening prayer. One of the men is chosen to chant the service, standing before the altar, wrapped in a praying shawl—the tallith. Very often Reb Sholom Dovid is the cantor. His voice is clear and mellow, and he sings the ancient Hebrew prayers with a wistful simplicity. There is nothing affected about him, nothing of the pompous preacher, for in the orthodox Jewish synagog there are no ministers or preachers and very seldom is there a rabbi for each congregation. Sometimes one rabbi will serve many congregations, for a rabbi is a teacher and a judge—while any layman may read the service before the altar of the High God.

When Reb Sholom Dovid chants the evening prayers, the few women who sit in a secluded corner of the synagog weep and sway from side to side, as if rocking their grief to sleep before the all-loving Mercy. What is it in Reb Sholom Dovid's voice that makes the women weep and makes the men ask him most often to read before the ark?

You cannot answer this question unless you know Reb Sholom Dovid. He is Amos thundering retribution before the luxury-loving court; he is Hosea pleading with wayward Israel to return to the loved One. He is Gideon smiting the Midianites; he is David singing sweet songs before Saul.

Last week Reb Sholom Dovid saw Isaac Levin coming down the street and Reb Sholom crossed to the other side, so that Isaac should not see him. Isaac owes him money. The Talmud tells us that we must never embararass our fellow beings or cause them shame. And would it not cause Isaac shame to see Reb Sholom Dovid when Isaac's wife was sick at home and he could not pay the money he owed?

But there are times when Reb Sholom Dovid does not hesitate to cause embarrassment or discomfort. The gang of idlers who loaf in the alley which borders on Reb Sholom Dovid's locksmith shop will tell you so. "Here comes a Jew," they said one day as he came out of his door; "let's pull his whiskers!" That was a huge joke, and they darted at him. But in Russia Reb Sholom Dovid had fared on coarse black bread and good cow's milk, and on summer nights he had slept under the stars of heaven and taken long breaths of pure, sweet air. The work in his shop had kept his muscles firm, and when the gang dashed at him they felt a Maccabaean fist. Reb Sholom Dovid was no fighter. His was a defensive strategy. He stood and waited for a new attack. But the young bullies of the neighborhood picked themselves up and slunk away. The next day when Reb Sholom Dovid passed them, they touched their caps and said, "Good morning, Mr. Cohen!" It is best to be friends with a man who has a fist like that!

When anyone dies among the orthodox Jews in his city, Reb Sholom Dovid is always sent for. He leaves his work bench and goes, no matter what the time or where the place. He arranges the simple funeral—orthodox Jewish funerals must always be simple—and he goes with the family to the burial ground—the "house of life," as the Jews call it. Does he do all this for money? Heaven forbid! This is a mitzvah, a service rendered to a brother in need.

But woe unto the man of evil-doing should Reb Sholom Dovid hear of his deeds! Quietly at first, and with all the gentleness of a loving father, he will admonish him at first; should he persist in his mistaken ways, then Reb Sholom Dovid will denounce his sin with all the passion and fury of the prophets of old.

To the widow and the fatherless Reb Sholom Dovid is like a spring of living water in a desert land. When one of these is in need, Reb Sholom Dovid will go with another man of the shul and they will collect alms. No one will know to whom the money goes; no one will ask, and so the needy will not be shamed before the people.

Now you know why Reb Sholom Dovid's voice is clear and mellow and why he chants the Hebrew prayers with a wistful and sweet simplicity. And now you know why the women weep and rock their grief to sleep, and why the men ask him most often to read before the ark.

MCBRIDE SEES ONLY SALVATION FOR UKRAINIAN JEWS IN FOOD DRAFTS

New York (J.T.A.)—Isaac McBride, well-known writer, author of "Barbarous Soviet Russia," lecturer and newspaperman, recently returned from an extensive trip through the Ukraine, the Donetz basin and the Crimea, paints a picture of pathos and horror of conditions as he found them in the territory which was the battle ground of Denikin, Wrangel, Petlura and the Poles, during the past four years.

"The idea that all need for relief in Russia is suddenly over is fantastic," Mr. McBride declared. "People talk about the improvement there as if some magician had waved a wand over the country and brought prosperity to everyone, over night. It only shows how little people have grasped real conditions and the suffering that the inhabitants of south-western Russia—especially the Jewish inhabitants—have been through.

"The destruction carried out by the invading armies was wanton and almost incredible. There is no city, no factory, no railway station, no farm that has not suffered. And the unhappy Jews, when the invading "Whites" arrived, suffered not only in their property, but in their families as well. Thousands are fugitives, having fled before the invaders, and those who remained have paid a terrific price.

"With all the relief that has gone to Russia from the United States, outside of the food drafts that were sent to individuals by their relatives here, few Jews have received anything. They are in a desperate case to-day, and will be a in worse case when next winter comes. Thousands are dying from all sorts of illnesses, induced largely by insufficient food and lack of proper clothing.

"Money will not buy these essentials in most of the country, as there is nothing to buy with money. The only salvation of tens of thousands of Jews in Russia is through the Nansen food drafts and the relief packages that may be sent by Jews of America to help their families in Russia."

GRUENBAUM CHARGES VIOLATION OF POLISH CONSTITUTION

Witos Has Majority of 55 In First Test Vote

Warsaw (J.T.A.).—The Center and Right parties in the Polish Sejm are seeking to set aside the present election laws, which made possible the election of so large a number of deputies representing the minority nationalities, and establish a "purely Polish" majority, violating the rights guaranteed under the Constitution, Deputy Isaac Gruenbaum charged in his speech Saturday, opposing the vote of confidence for Premier Witos.

Deputy Gruenbaum was chosen by all minority groups to make the opposition speech preceding the first test vote since the assumption of office by the Witos Cabinet. The vote was 226 against 171, giving Witos a majority of 55. The National Democrats, Christian Nationalists and the Peasant Party deputies helped to swell the vote favoring Witos, while the Socialists and all minority deputies opposed.

AMERICAN KEREN HAYESOD OFFICERS ELECTED

New York (J.T.A.).—The headquarters of the American Keren Hayesod, 114 Fifth Avenue, announce that at the meeting of the Board of Directors on May 23rd, officers were elected to make up the administration of the Keren Hayesod for the present term.

Samuel Untermyer, who has headed the Keren Hayesod since its organization in this country, was elected President. Morris Rothenberg, for many years a leader of American Zionism, a member of the Joint Distribution Committee, former Chairman of the Executive Committee of the American Jewish Congress, was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors, with Rabbi Meyer Berlin, President of the Mizrachi Organization, Vice-Chairman. Herman Conheim was re-elected Treasurer. As General Secretary, the Board re-elected Mr. Emanuel Neuman.

In addition to the above, a Finance Committee was chosen, with Jacob Siegel of New York as Chairman. The other members of the Finance Committee are H. Leonard Simons, Michael Salit, Boris Grabelsky, Abram E. Liebowitz, Willy Levy, Nathan Turell, Jacob Goell, and Meyer Brown.

GRAVES OF RATHENAU'S ASSASSINS AS ANTI-SEMITIC SHRINES.

Berlin (J.T.A.).—Anti-Semites from all parts of Germany are making pilgrimages to Saalfeld where are the graves of the two assassins of Dr. Walter Rathenau, the Jewish Foreign Minister of Germany. The memory of Eischen and Kerns, both of whom committeed suicide, is being held green by Jew-baiters, who regard the assassins as martyrs. The graves are covered with floral wreaths, and postal cards are sold to the visiting anti-Semites making pilgrimages to the graves, the proceeds being devoted to the purchase of fresh flowers.

This is a step in the right direction and means that Winnipeg will be assured of a community centre that will eventually be the meeting place for all important Jewish activities for both old and young.

Amongst those who have worked for these results must be mentioned Mr. E. M. Goldsmith and Mr. A. E. Cantor for the Y.M.H.A., and Mr. C. Smithin and Mr. M. Stall for the Montefiore Club.

These gentlemen are to be congratulated for successfully carrying out what almost seemed an impossibility, and it is hoped that their action will be supported by the rest of the community.

IDGESCOM TO FACILITATE EMIGRATION FROM RUSSIA

New York (J.T.A.)— An American branch of the Emigration Relief Section of the All-Russian Relief Committee (Yidgescom) was opened in New York to-day, says an announcement by the Idescom.

The Emigrants' Relief Section which has branches in the largest cities of Soviet Russia, White Russia and the Ukraine, as well as in border cities, are intended to provide information and legal and medical assistance to residents in Russia desiring to join their relatives in America. In this work the Idgescom has the full support of the Russian Government departments concerned, the announcement states.

The American branch of this section of the Yidgescom, it is said, is intended to assist relatives in America desirous of bringing immigrants to this country by supplying them with information and other forms of help. The Idgescom announcement states the Soviet Government does not obstruct the departure of those who are proceeding to join their relatives in America. All Russian citizens can obtain, without difficulty, permission to leave Russia by applying for an "emigration passport."

The American branch of the Yidgescom undertakes to facilitate emigration from Russia and to forward steamship tickets from here to the Idgescom offices in Russia.

A warning against "smuggling" frontiers is contained in the Idgescom announcement. Emigrants from Russia choosing this means of departure are exposed to attacks by bandits and swindling agents, it is declared.
